September 2020

Dear Parents and Carers

Our curriculum guide will help you to see the range of fantastic opportunities given to all year groups throughout the year. As a school that constantly seeks to improve and develop each child, we will no doubt add to this during the year and in future years.

The guide will also help you to see the range of themed weeks, celebration days and typical school visits that happen during the course of the year.

The intention of the Windmill Hill Primary School Guide is to give you a comprehensive overview of the opportunities offered to your children.

Thank you for your continued, valued support, which is always very much appreciated.

Kind Regards

Miss P Newman
Head teacher

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.

Purpose of the Guide

The whole school curriculum guide is intended to give you information about:

Some of the learning that your child will undertake in each half term;

Educational visits;

The Curriculum;

After school clubs;

School meals;

Other relevant information about our School.

You and your child should find this guide useful as it will:

Encourage home discussion about learning;

Encourage a growing independence towards learning at home;

Provide you with relevant information about our school.

Many of our educational visits are subsidised through the school budget and every effort is made to keep costs to a minimum, as they form a crucial part of our curriculum enrichment activity.

If you are a parent of a Key Stage 2 child and you wish for them to participate in residential visits, you are made aware of the costs with due time.

Please be aware that there may be additional opportunities for education visits to take place following the publication of this document.

Curriculum Statement

Intent

Windmill Hill Primary School endeavours to offer a curriculum that develops a well-rounded, happy pupil. We have rich and varied opportunities that inspire our pupils and make them excited to learn. A broad and balanced curriculum is crucial to ensure our pupils are offered a wide range of life choices and opportunities.

We want our children to come to school filled with enthusiasm and eager to learn every day. In order to do this, we want to arrange for the children to visit interesting places, experience live performances and offer opportunities that they would never have the chance to be exposed to. We know that this will impact on their learning and improve attainment in all subjects.

We believe in a school where the origins to our plans for teaching and learning stem from the 'why' rather than the 'what'. We want to enable students to understand the world around them and the skills that they hold within, so that they can become passionate, fulfilled individuals and pro-active, conscientious citizens of Windmill Hill and the wider community. In order to achieve our goal, we will teach engaging, inspiring lessons that cover a rich and varied curriculum. We know that this will result in happy pupils with a thirst for learning that will see them reach their vast potential in whatever field they intend to pursue.

Implementation

As a school, we place a great deal of importance on academic learning. We take the progress and attainment of each child achieving the very best they are capable of very seriously. However, we also view each child as a complete person and our curriculum has been tailored to ensure that each child grows as a person and recognises their place in our community and in our ever-changing world.

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

Our curriculum has been designed to reflect that life at Windmill Hill Primary School is rich, varied, caring, inclusive, exciting, challenging, inspiring, but above all, rewarding. This runs through all subject areas, including our blocked-unit, cross curricular approach to English and our Maths curriculum that builds upon knowledge gained over time and applied into problems and investigations.

Our approach to teaching across the whole curriculum puts children at the heart of their own learning; taking an active part in lessons and ensuring that the children are rich in language and cultural diversity.

We recognise that children have a thirst for knowledge and we are committed to nurturing young writers, performers, readers, international speakers, mathematicians, scientists, historians, geographers, artists, designers, musicians, sports persons, computer users and so much more!

We aim to provide the building blocks of knowledge that enable the children to progress and follow their dreams through fostering the qualities of resilience and inquiry as well as planning opportunities for the children to know about keeping safe.

We also plan for and promote British Values, (Democracy, Rule of Law, Individual Liberty, Mutual Respect and Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs) ensuring that children are aware of their rights and responsibilities as a UK citizen. They are values that give a simple message to our young people, 'In Britain, no matter what your background, you can fit in, you can succeed and you can belong'.

While these values are not unique to Britain or British society, they are integral to our ethos. Our implementation of 'Prevent Duty' within our curriculum focuses on tackling all points of the spectrum, from political extremism to religious fundamentalism, recognising how the use of online propaganda can prey on a sense of isolation and alienation.

Our curriculum does not aim to force children to adhere to British values and to disclaim all others, nor does it try to turn children against their parents or their cultural heritage, but looks to embrace and unite common thoughts and approaches.

Through our RE curriculum, we look to help children understand where values overlap and where they diverge. The absence of this is often the basis for the tensions that can arise between and sometimes even within faiths.

Our curriculum aims to help children understand the tensions that can arise between faith and other legally established rights, as well as understanding how their own faith relates to the wider world, both in terms of attitudes and the prevailing law.

In order to allow the children to fully develop these aptitudes, language is a key focus for us. We aim to develop the children's communication abilities and also provide them with the rich and specific vocabulary (from across the curriculum) that underpins their knowledge and understanding.

We are a school that proudly embraces change and does not shy away from the increasing use and dependence on ICT in the world. Everything that we do in ICT is geared towards removing the fear from using computers and the internet. Children use the internet and will continue to do so. Therefore, our responsibility is to prepare them for the digital world and motivate them to become responsible digital citizens. Staff members do everything in their power to stay up-to-date with the developments in this field and perpetually promote the importance of e-safety.

Learning is also enhanced by a carefully planned range of educational visits with their strong links to enhance the curriculum. Our curriculum is also structured to use the wealth of local resources (including those further afield) to enhance the children’s learning experiences.

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

Our approach to assessment is built upon these milestones, looking to use assessment to monitor and support the children’s learning over a number of years.

Reading

Intent

Reading is an essential skill and allows children “... a chance to develop culturally, emotionally, intellectually, socially and spiritually.” (National Curriculum 2014).

At Windmill Hill, we understand the importance of reading and its benefit on a child’s education, their social and cognitive development, their wellbeing and their mental health and we have assumed the responsibility of championing this across our curriculum.

We are committed to embedding a positive reading culture throughout the school that inspires and promotes a love of reading, both for pleasure and purpose. Through the provision of a print, rich environment and the modelling of positive reading behaviours, it is our intention to instill a passion and enthusiasm for reading in every child, opening up opportunities to explore the world around them and widen their experiences and imagination.

“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment. Together we make a difference.”

We intend to ensure that every child leaves Windmill Hill armed with the tools to become independent lifelong learners by being able to read fluently, confidently and with understanding.

Implementation

Phonics

Letters and Sounds is the resource we use at Windmill Hill Primary School to support the systematic teaching of phonics. Children begin their phonics journey at the start of the Reception year and continue into Key Stage 1 (Years 1 and 2). Phonics is taught daily to all children in Reception and Year 1.

In Year 2, phonics is taught throughout autumn term and then continued as an intervention for those children who did not pass the Phonics Screening Check in Year 1 or require additional support.

Phonics is delivered in small, fluid groups and pupils participate in speaking, listening, reading and spelling activities that are matched to their developing needs. The teachers draw upon observations and continuous assessment to ensure pupils are stretched and challenged and to identify children who may need additional support - groups are then altered accordingly.

Pupils work through the different phases, learning and developing their phonics sounds and knowledge, following a set lesson format of Revisit, Teach, Practise, and Apply.

Early Reading

The reading process in our school begins with sharing stories and modelling good reading behaviours and this is at the heart of our reading pedagogy throughout Windmill Hill.

Children in both reception and across KS1 have regular story time, which is their opportunity to listen to and become lost in a good book. Each term these classes introduce their 'Super Six', which have been specifically chosen to engage and excite the children. These stories are re-read regularly so children can engage and connect with the stories, allowing them to dive deeper into the book, promoting important reading behaviours and developing a thirst for reading.

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

Early Communication Intervention

At Windmill Hill, we recognise that children's early language is fundamental to learning (and becoming a skilled, confident reader) so we provide a range of interventions that concentrate on supporting children's communication development. These include Talk Boost, Wellcomm and ChatterBug.

Reading interventions

At Windmill Hill, we have identified the children reading below age related expectation (lowest 20%) and introduced opportunities throughout the day for additional practice.

Engaging Parents

At Windmill Hill, we encourage parents to engage in children's reading and play an integral part in their reading journey

Parental engagement is given through:

- information relayed during open evenings
- invitations to Reading/ Phonics workshops in school
- clear expectations on listening to their child read at home
- information around reading events and activities within school and how to support children with reading at home on our website/ newsletter / Dojo communication platform

Independent Reading

“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment. Together we make a difference.”

At Windmill Hill, we believe that the breadth of reading is important so we offer our pupils a range of reading schemes covering all genres. The schemes incorporated into our reading provision include: Phonics Bug (online access too), Oxford Reading Tree and Jelly and Bean.

All books are banded in order to ensure progression and challenge for all children. We also have a vast array of quality non-scheme based books for those children who no longer need the structure that a scheme provides. Children who are “free readers” can utilise both class and school libraries to enhance their love of reading. Children will be encouraged to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference or text books.

Pupils will have the opportunity to explore our literacy heritage, modern fiction and books from other cultures and traditions. All children read to an adult on a weekly basis to inform teacher judgement and ensure an appropriate level of challenge and variety in the books selected.

Reading across the Curriculum

At Windmill Hill, we understand the importance of immersing our children in knowledge, vocabulary and experiences relevant to the subjects they are studying. Therefore, opportunities are identified to support the broader curriculum through the use of quality, age appropriate texts.

In Reception and KS1, all humanities themes are supported by specially chosen books to enrich pupil’s subject learning and increase their interest and enjoyment. In KS2, class reads are linked to cross curricular themes and reading comprehensions on these themes further develop positive reading behaviours, whilst enabling children to broaden their vocabulary and reinforce their knowledge of a subject.

Reading for pleasure

Research shows a positive link between reading frequency and enjoyment and educational attainment. Our school fosters a culture of reading for pleasure, ensuring every child finds enjoyment in reading through a range of initiatives:

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

- Encouraging staff to be teachers who advocate reading and actively promoting this around school
- Encouraging all pupils to be readers through actively promoting it around school and recommending books to peers
- Purchasing current, popular children's literature.
- Ensuring there are a variety of quality texts which allow pupils to build on their knowledge of the wider curriculum
- Staff reading regularly to pupils.
- Sharing quality texts in English to engage pupils in reading and writing
- Providing opportunities for pupils to be immersed in silent, sustained reading which allows not only for reading pleasure, but also for developing reading stamina.
- The development of a Reading Buddy scheme where pupils from UKS2 pair up with younger pupils and share a book
- Engaging in reading events such as World Book Day, school book fairs, author visits, library access.
- Creating a stimulating and inviting reading area in every classroom which contains texts suitable for their reading age
- Encouraging pupils to use the library – library time / playground library service / reading café
- Actively promoting reading for pleasure in the EYFS outdoor provision areas and during KS1 & KS2 playtime
- Celebrating Reading

Environment

At Windmill Hill, our print rich environment helps to foster the skills needed for reading and enriches the literacy experiences of our children. Our well stocked library is one of the keystones in developing an effective reading environment and is used to raise the profile of reading in school.

Supporting Staff

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

At Windmill Hill, we ensure that the deployment of all staff is effective in supporting children with their reading. We equip staff with the skills and knowledge they need to teach children to be accomplished and keen readers.

Developing partnerships

At Windmill Hill, we work collaboratively with the local library to encourage children to become members. We attend reading events and staff utilise the facility to access reading resources to support curriculum delivery.

Our school website provides links to reading resources from Bug Club phonics, Oxford Owl, Book Trust, Vooks

Impact

At Windmill Hill, reading forms the core of our curriculum and we are determined that every pupil will learn to read regardless of their background, needs or abilities. By the time children leave our school, they are competent readers who have a love of reading for both purpose and pleasure.

Through the teaching of systematic phonics, our aim is for children to become fluent readers by the end of Key Stage One. This way, children can focus on developing their fluency and comprehension as they move through the school and expand their knowledge of the wider world they live in.

Attainment in phonics is measured at the end of Year 1 through the Phonics Screening Test and the percentage of our children meeting the expected standard, exceeds the attainment of pupils locally and nationally. Reading attainment is measured using Standard Assessment Test (SAT's) and our attainment is improving year on year. However, our reading curriculum goes beyond the results of the statutory assessments. We know learning to read is the foundation for future educational success and at Windmill Hill, we are committed in our stated intent.

Together we make a difference.”*

Long Term Curriculum Plans

The yearly plan can be found on our school website.

Curriculum Plans

Each term, a curriculum plan will be available on the school website.

Forest School

At Windmill Hill the outdoor education is an important part of the curriculum. We are fortunate to have our own forest school which contains a tree house, an amphitheatre, musical instruments and wooden sculptures.

Each class has a session outside every week and the impact on learning within the classroom has been huge.

Our pupils are re-connecting with nature and receiving an enriched education thanks to the success of the Forest School programme which is run by The Mersey Forest.

The Ofsted inspector was enthralled by his session in the Forest and states in his report that it is:

"..A magical place to learn"

Impact of Forest School

- To rebuild children's appreciation of nature and respect for wildlife.
- To encouraging sociable, healthy and active lifestyles.
- To foster independent and creative learners.
- To helping families spend more time playing together outdoors.
- To educating children with the natural environment.
- To provide an enriched education.
- To allow children to play outside with their friends.
- To building self-confidence and emotional intelligence skills.

In particular, pupils should be taught to:

Swim competently, confidently and proficiently over a distance of at least 25 metres.

Use a range of strokes effectively (for example, front crawl, backstroke and breaststroke).

Perform safe self-rescue in different water-based situations.

The attainment targets should be measured and recorded by the time pupils leave in year 6.

Our Clubs

At Windmill Hill Primary School we strive to be as inclusive as possible in everything we do. We always bear this in mind when we are organising different clubs and activities for the children to take part in, as such a lot of our clubs are open to all of the pupils.

We try to host as many different types of clubs as we can, most of which are held after school hours. We do however hold a Breakfast Club every school day from 8:30am until school opens. The Breakfast Club not only offers a great way for children to see their friends before the normal school day resumes, but it also comes in handy for parents and carers that start work at 9 o'clock.

It is beneficial for the school too, as it not only gives the children a chance to prepare themselves mentally for the day ahead, but it also helps us to maintain a higher standard of punctuality from the pupils.

After School Clubs are run on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays each week, please see below for more details.

School Meals

If you have children in Reception, Year 1 or Year 2, they are entitled to free school meals regardless of your household income, under the Universal meals scheme.

From Year 3 onwards your children may be entitled to Free School Meals, if you are receiving one of the benefits below:

- Income Support
- Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance
- Income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Support under Part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999
- The Guarantee element of State Pension Credit
- Child Tax Credit (provided you're not also entitled to Working Tax Credit and have an annual gross income of no more than £16,190)
- Working Tax Credit 'run-on' - the payment someone may receive for a further four weeks after they stop qualifying for Working Tax Credit
- Universal Credit - if you apply on or after 1 April 2018 your household income must be less than £7,400 a year (after tax and not including any benefits you get) at the time of your application. If your income goes above the threshold in the future, but you remain on Universal Credit, your child will still be eligible (see below). If you applied before 1 April 2018 there was no household income threshold for Universal Credit claimants.

Parents can now apply for free school meals online. If you believe that your child may be eligible to receive free school meals, please make an application using the following link –

<https://www3.halton.gov.uk/Pages/EducationandFamilies/Schools/FreeSchoolMeals.aspx>

If you have more than one child in the school, you must make an application for each child.

*“Windmill Hill is committed to lifelong learning within a caring environment.
Together we make a difference.”*

School will then be notified if your application has been successful.

For each child that is eligible to receive Free School Meals, the school receives money which can be used to purchase resources and equipment for school. Therefore, it is vitally important that you check if you are eligible as this money supports our school budget and enables us to offer a more varied curriculum to our children.
